MUSICAL JOURNEY

Monique Martinez was born and raised in the San Francisco Bay Area. This young and talented Latina star has blazed throughout the R&B and Pop scene performing with prominent artists such as Bay Area's Mistah Fab and The Jacka. Monique has also worked with Young Money's Tyga, Baby Bash, Ray J, Soulja Boy, Day 26, Pretty Ricky, Trey Songs, and Fabolous. She has also honored America by singing the National Anthem for three different NFL Football games. Monique was selected to represent the Bay Area on national television performing in BET's Wild N' Out Wednesdays in 2009-2010 and since then has been writing some of the hottest songs with production all-stars TempLo.

Growing up in a musically talented family, she cites her grandfather as her biggest musical influence and inspiration. Upon taking singing lessons at the tender age of 7, Monique's talent propelled her to victory in several national child and teen vocal competitions. Her powerful voice and outstanding range are displayed with every performance.

Monique provides the music world with a unique sound that has combined elements of Rhythm and Blues, Pop, and enjoys producing EDM dance. She writes and arranges her own music and is presently working long hours in the studio for upcoming projects. As an artist on the rise, Monique works on her craft daily in hopes that her relationship with her true love (music) continues to evolve and flourish.
